FOREWORD

At the second reunion of the Folsom Family Association, then called the Descendants of the Immigrant John Folsom, on August 24, 1910, a committee on genealogy was elected with Miss Frances A. Mathes as chairman, the object being to collect enough data to warrant having a new genealogy printed. Miss Mathes served until 1915 and reported over 1200 names of Folsoms had been filed. No genealogical data of this filed-list was turned over to the writer who became chairman in 1915. During this latter year, blanks asking for family records were printed and sent to the addresses found in the secretary's book, in Chapman's genealogy of the family, to names found in town and city registers, in telephone books, and to all names given by the members. This work extended over several years. Enquiry from an Oklahoma family, in 1915, started the intense correspondence with families in that state which lasted over a period of some years, during which time also much correspondence was carried on with Mrs. Carolyn C. Boyd of Georgia, and other Georgia families, in trying to connect that large southern branch.

Mr. Israel Phillips Folsom, whose inspiration it was to found the family association, turned over to the writer the collection of data which he had secured previous to the formation of the society. This was typed and numbered to fit the material in the Chapman book. A new genealogy could not be written with just the additional data collected since the publication of the old book in 1882, and the latter was wholly re-written, with the new material added in the proper line of descent and generation. Many original sources were searched for any items of history in the colonial period that would add human interest to the lives of the early families.

The writer has made some changes in the style of the Chapman edition; the whole material has had to be renumbered, and the Israel<sup>3</sup> Folsom line corrected, as well as some others. When no additional data could be found through correspondence (many letters being returned "unclaimed"), the record has been used as found in the first book. Many cemeteries have been searched for death records. Colonial, Revolutionary and 1812 War records have been added to the family data. Blanks were sent to addresses of all World War men that could be found.

It is probably too much to expect that a work of this kind can be free from errors. Not all people realize the importance of sending exact dates, and the compiler has no way of checking up on unrecorded families. Often from members of the same family dates have been at variance.

The writer wishes to thank Mr. Israel Phillips Folsom for his data; Mrs. Flora L. Webb, of San Diego, California, for her help over a long period of time in sending vital records of the family culled from the local papers and through solicitation from the California families, as well as of her branch of the family in Vermont; Mrs. L. E. Connable, of Greenfield, Massachusetts and Mrs. M. G. Benedict of St. Johnsbury, Vermont, for their splendid help within recent years in getting records of many Vermont families; Miss Edith S. Freeman, Librarian of the New Hampshire Historical Society; Miss Thelma Brackett, Librarian of the New Hampshire State Library; the State Board of Health of New Hampshire for Vital Records; and also all those who have sent their family data.

The writer also wishes to thank Mr. Henry L. Mason, President of the Association, whose encouraging words were a help in weary hours of typing and retyping the material for the publisher.

Tribute is here paid to the memory of the late Mr. Wendell Burt Folsom, whose generosity during the years of work on these records was an inspiration to go on,—and it is hoped this book, made possible by him, will be a credit to his family name,—FOLSOM.

INTRODUCTION

By Rev. N. S. Folsom, D.D., Lawrence, Mass.

On the 26th of April, 1638, the ship "Diligent, of Ipswich," England, of 350 tons burden, John Martin, master, set sail from the mouth of the Thames for Massachusetts bay, having on board nineteen families and six or eight single persons,—in all, one hundred and thirty-three. Twelve of these families, numbering eighty-four souls, were from old Hingham,—the rest from the immediate vicinity; and they had all embarked for the purpose of joining a colony settled in Hingham, Mass. (1633-37), consisting of ten families and five single persons (in all, forty-nine), who had been their friends and neighbors in old Hingham. Among those now emigrating were John Foulsham of Hingham, then twenty-three or twenty-four years of age, and his young wife, to whom he had been married about a year and a half. They were attended by two servants. His wife's father and mother (Edward and Mary Clark Gilman, of Hingham), three younger brothers (Edward, not quite twenty-one years old, John and Moses), two younger sisters (Sarah, and Lydia who married Daniel Cushing,—1645), and three servants of the family, were fellow-passengers. The rector of the parish, Rev. Robert Peck, with his family, consisting of wife, two children, and two servants, also formed part of the company. The immediate occasion of their departure seems to have been trouble in ecclesiastical matters. Their rector, doubtless with the sympathy and aid of most of those constituting the emigrating party, had pulled down the rails of chancel and altar, and leveled the latter a foot below the church, as it remains to this day. Being prosecuted by Bishop Wren, he left the kingdom, together with his friends, who sold their estates at half their real value, promising to remain with them always.

The party having landed at Boston, Massachusetts, August 10, 1638, immediately proceeded to their place of destination, about fourteen miles south-east from Boston. An Adam Foulsham, probably a son of the Adam who died in 1627, and a cousin, if not brother of John Foulsham, came from Hingham, Eng., to Hingham, Mass., in 1639, but returned and died—1670. Their rector remained about three years, when, hearing that the bishops were deposed, he returned to England in 1641 (the date given by Daniel Cushing), resumed his rectory, and died in 1656. Edward Gilman had with others obtained a grant of land eight miles square in a place now called Rehoboth, near the Rhode Island line, in 1641. In 1647 his name is recorded in Ipswich. Soon afterward he went to Exeter, N. H., where his sons were already established in business. John Folsom and wife, with their children, followed her father and mother to Exeter, probably not earlier than 1650, the first authentic record of their residence in that town being in the year 1655. (Chapman, pp. 7-9)

Hingham (England) was once the head town of a deanery and contained 43 parishes. Foulsham seems to have been one of those outlying parishes. (Chapman)

NORTH WEST VIEW OF FOULSHAM CHURCH
FOULSHAM, ENGLAND

From an old engraving in The History and Antiquities of FOULSHAM in Norfolk, by The Rev. Thomas Quarles, M. A. R. N., Chaplain to The Right Hon. The Earl of Morton. London, 1842.

ORIGIN OF THE NAME FOLSOM

As to the original derivation of the name FOULSHAM, Hon. George Folsom, in one of the MSS. left by him, says,—“It arose, upon the adoption of surnames in England, from the town of Foulsham, a village in the county of Norfolk, England (six or eight miles north of Hingham), in which county the family was seated for many centuries, possessing estates in fifteen different places.” Thus, John of Foulsham became John Foulsham.

The orthography and pronunciation of the name have varied in the family itself, as well as among others writing and pronouncing it. The first Anglo-American bearing the name spelt it “Foulsham.” His son, Dea. John, wrote it “Fullsom” in 1709; and it is signed “Foullsam” in his last will—1715. In one instance, in the Hingham town records, it is spelt “Fulsham,” but always afterward “Foulsham.” In the Exeter records it is uniformly written “Folsom” from the year 1659, with one exception in 1681, when the town clerk wrote “Foulshame.” The present writer has found the name spelled “Foulsham” in deeds extending down to the 1750 period. In old Norfolk County Records it is spelled “ffoulsham and ffulsham”; in Essex Court Records,—Foulsham, Follsum, Folsom, Fulsham, Fulsum, Fousham and Foulsem. In the records of the first parish, Haverhill, Mass.,—1749-64,—it is spelt “Foulsham,” “Foulsam,” “Folsam,” and “Fulsom,” on occasion of the baptism of children of “Josiah Foulsham.” Originally it was doubtless spelt “Foulshame,” its etymological significance being the fowl's home, or breeding-place or mart. The old syllabic division must have been Fouls-hame, the final syllable becoming shortened into “ham,” with the first letter silent, pronounced like um, as may now often be noticed in words of that termination. A further shortening appears in 1504,—how extensively practised is uncertain,—in a Latin inscription on a monumental stone in the floor of the church of Repps, Norfolk county, which, translated, is, "Pray for the soul of Mr. Thomas Folsham, Baccalaureate of the Chapel." (Hist. of Norfolk Co., vol. XI, p. 182.) This last mode of spelling appears on modern maps of England, designating the town; but everywhere it is now written Folsom by those bearing the name.

In regard to the pronunciation of this word, it is now generally pronounced by the family quite like wholesome. The writer has never known but one exception. And we suggest that this is a preservation of the old way of pronouncing the name: that in the first syllable, "Fouls," the diphthong "ou" was sounded as in "souls," "poultry," etc. Certain it is that this old spelling—fouls (or foules)—of our modern word "fowls" occurs in Chaucer, as in his "House of Fame," and in his "Legend of Nine Good Women,"—

"As this foule, when hit, beheld."

"I hear the foules sing."

Our suggestion is, moreover, borne out by similar phenomena of pronunciation in modern times. We hear "bowling-alley" (once written bouling-alley, and the sphere or ball, boule) pronounced in two ways, with the first syllable like "ow" in howl and in the drinking-vessel bowl. "Johnson, Elphinstone, and Perry declare for the former,—i.e., as in howl; Sheriden, Scott, Rennell, and Smith pronounce it like hole. Garrick corrected Walker for pronouncing it like 'howl.' " (Early English Pronun., vol. 1, p. 152.) Even the pronunciation of the word, when written as Dea. John Folsom wrote it, "Fullsom," has authority in the old pronunciation of the word "Cowper" like that of wound, a hurt, as now heard, with the ou as in "group," or, possibly, nearer the sound of o-oo, the sound of ow in "Cowper," as in howl, being "given it only by those who do not know the family." (Chapman, pp. 7, 8)

The earliest period in which the name appears in history is the first half of the fourteenth century. There was a John Foulsham, of Foulsham, prior of a Carmelite monastery in Norwich, and "praeses provincialis" of all England. In all probability he belonged to a family of which the Folsoms are lineal descendants. He was D.D. of Cambridge, and, according to Pitt, is spoken of in John Bayle's "Catalogue of Eminent Writers" (p. 421) as follows: "After an acquaintance with Aristotle's methods, and having got a smattering of the original scriptures (gustatis scripturarum corticibus), he became no mean proficient in controversial theology, knowing how, by means of syllogistic tricks, to turn white into black and men into donkeys." He died in the great plague at Norwich, in 1348. Richard Foulsham, also of Foulsham, and probably the prior's brother, was much in the court of John XXII at Rome (1316-34), with whom he corresponded, and some of his letters to whom were published. (Chapman, pp. 11-12)

In 1842, "The History and Antiquities of Foulsham, in Norfolk," by Rev. Thomas Quarles, M.A., was printed in London. He gives but little information respecting the Foulsham family, as they seem to have settled in Hingham and vicinity at least four hundred years ago. He quotes from "Bloomfield's History of Norfolk" the statement that "John deFoulsham was an eloquent, unflinching opponent of the corruption of the times." In a "Treatise De Matrimonio" he zealously defends the marriage of priests, in an age so debased that such a doctrine was totally at variance with the teachings of the Roman church.

Another of his works was "De Arte Praedicandi," or, "The Art of Preaching." "In this he strenuously urged the utility and necessity of public preaching," which was little practiced in that age. He is reported to have been himself a model of pulpit eloquence. (Chapman, p. 14)

Mr. Herbert A. Folsom, at the second annual reunion of the Folsom Family in Hingham, Massachusetts, on August 24, 1910, read a paper which he had written, entitled,—“A Visit to the Ancestral Home of the Folsoms in England.”

This was printed in the second Annual Reunion Report, from which, on page 13, the following is quoted:

In the time of William of Normandy, who came across with an army of sixty thousand men, there was published in 1086, Domesday Book, the first authentic record of Estates and Realities. In it is mentioned the place called Foulsham, in the Hundred of Eynsford, a royal demesne, one of the Lordships of which Edward the Confessor die'd possessed. It appears to have been the chief place of the Hundred (that is, the district of a hundred families or estates) as there, an inquiry was held by King Edward the First, upon his return from the Holy Land concerning the state of the Demesne Lands, on account of the Sheriff who had defrauded the king and oppressed the people.

The Domesday Book also stated that there was a church at Foulsham whose glebe was twenty-two acres.

Over the arch of the doorway at the west end of the tower of the present church at Foulsham, we find the arms of England and Normandy and those of the Lord Morley de Foulsham.

In the Hundred Rolls, or, is it in the Battle Abbey Rolls? (the list of knights who fought with William of Normandy) we find the name Ernald (meaning sea-eagle) de Foulsham. This is interesting, if my transcript is correct and authentic, as it established the Family name three hundred years before the time of the great John de Foulsham, prior of the Norwich Monastery, who died in 1348, and who is mentioned on page 11 of the Genealogy. (Chapman)

The history of Norfolk (Bloomfield and Parkin) mentions Elias de Foulsham, rector of Bokenham, 1349; Nicholas de Foulsham in the 20th year of the reign of Edward 1st; Simon de Foulsham, bailiff, Yarmouth, 1446; Thomas de Foulsham, rector of Clippsly, 1490. In the visitations of Norfolk, previous to 1552, we find Thomas, son of Sir William Gyrling of Wellingham, wedded to Ellen Folsom, and in the same volume a son of Sir John Curson of Gaywood Manor, near Lynn, wedded to Miss Margery Gilman of Norwich. Thus we hear of the family intermarrying into royalty, contemporary with the time of our John, and, possibly, of a line of Folsoms of the Lord Morleys and the present amiable and youthful Lord Hastings.

It seems that the Folsoms must undoubtedly have been of Danish and Norman descent. . . .

ANCESTRY OF JOHN FOLSOM

The first traceable ancestor of John Foulsham is (1) ROGER FOULSHAM of Necton, county of Norfolk, England, whose will is dated 1534. (2) WILLIAM, his son, married Agnes Smith alias Foulsham, of Besthorpe, and was father of (3) ADAM of Besthorpe, who married Emma —, and whose will is dated 1565. He owned lands in Besthorpe, Wymondham (Windham), Bunwell, Hingham, and Hackford. (4) ADAM, his son, was baptized in 1560; married Grace —; had a home in Hingham and lands in Besthorpe. He died in 1630. (5) ADAM, of Hingham, son of the latter, married Agnes — and died in 1627. The facts in the preceding paragraph, and thus far in the present are given on the authority of the MSS. of Hon. George Folsom, who visited England and explored every possible source of information. He next states that "Adam" the fourth in descent from "Roger," left a son named "John,"—i.e. the first Anglo-American John Foulsham. From this first Anglo-American John Folsom of Exeter, N. H. and his wife, Mary Gilman Folsom, are descended, as far as we know, all the Folsoms in America. (Chapman, p. 13)

* * * * *

The wills of the "Smith alias Foulsham" family of Norfolk county, England, show the ancestry of John Folsom of Hingham, Massachusetts, and Exeter, New Hampshire, to be a little different from that published in the Chapman history of the family and elsewhere. See FOULSHAM FAMILIES IN ENGLAND.

This Adam Folshame of Hingham was son of John of Hingham and Hackford who died intestate 28 April 1620, and grandson of Adam of Besthorp. His son, John Smith alias Folsham, sold the Hackford estate given to him in his father's will.

The Rev. Jacob Chapman in his genealogy on page 14 says: "There has been a tradition that the father of the Folsom family was, in England, John Smith, and that his name was changed during the voyage to America. I find little ground for this opinion. John Foulsham, son of Adam, was baptized in Hingham, England, in 1615. (Research in the records of Hingham and in near-by towns, in 1927, failed to disclose a birth or baptism record. E.K.F.) In 1627 Adam Folsam, alias Smith, made his will, naming three sons,—John, Adam and Peter. John Foulsham married, in Hingham, England, October 4, 1636, Mary, daughter of Edward Gilman, who was baptized August 6, 1615. (Marriage record: John Fowlsham alias Smith married 4 October 1636, Marie Gyleman. E.K.F.) In 1638 they came to Hingham, Mass. and in 1639 Adam Foulsham followed them. If the family name was ever Smith, it seems it must have been changed before the birth and baptism of John Foulsham, the emigrant to Hingham, Mass.”

In 1672 there is a deed signed by John Foulsham, recorded in Vol. II, p. 287, Rockingham County Deeds, in which property is conveyed by John Foulsham to his daughter, which begins thus: “Whereas there is an Intent of marriage between George March, son of Hugh March of Newbery and Mary Foulsham, daughter of John Foulsham alias Smith, of Exeter, . . .” (Deed in full in No. 7)

Why the “alias” in the above deed unless he had once borne the name “Smith,” and now wished to make the bequest to his child forever indisputable? (Chapman)

It would seem to the present writer that the line of Folsoms designated in the English records as “Smith alias Foulsham” sprang from the marriage of William<sup>2</sup> (Roger<sup>1</sup>) Foulsham to Agnes Smith, who as widow of William Foulsham, made her will 30 September 1551 (proved 31 May 1552), naming herself “Agnes Smith alias Foulsham, widow.” In her will she names her three sons, William, Adam and Robert “Smith alias Foulsham.” The descendants of these three sons are also called “Smith alias Foulsham.” From the fact that the immigrant, John Foulsham, in his deed to his daughter Mary calls himself “John Foulsham alias Smith,” seems to prove his descent from this William Foulsham and Agnes Smith. This being the only family of Folsoms in the new country, there was no further need of the "alias Smith" distinction.

The late Col. Charles E. Banks, well-known historian and genealogist, explained the term "alias" thus: "Alias" was used as a distinguishing term not to conceal one's identity, but to make sure of that person's identity, when, for instance, grandchildren went to live with grandparents and became known by the grandparent's name, or often called by their surname. In maturity they took their legal surname and added to it the alias, or name they were sometimes called. The alias or both names were given to make doubly sure of the person's identity.

JOHN FOWLISHAM alias SMITH, m. 4 Oct. 1636 MARIE GYLEMAN. She was bapt. 6 Aug. 1615. They were the immigrants in 1638.

Thus it would seem the line of descent of John Folsom, the ancestor of the American family, would be:

The writer purchased in Richmond, co. Surrey, England, in 1930, two original parchment documents: (1) An Indenture of Mortgage by Adam Smythe alias Folsham of Besthorpe to Robert Smythe alias Folsham of Wymondham, of a close called Buxten in Besthorpe, dated 29 Apr. 1560. (2) The will of Adam Smythe alias Folsham of Besthorpe, dated 2 Apr. 1565. See No. 3. This Adam Smythe alias Folsham was Adam<sup>3</sup> (William<sup>2</sup>, Roger<sup>1</sup>), great-grandfather of the immigrant John.

FOLSOMS AT UNVEILING EXERCISES, EXETER, N. H., SEPTEMBER 30, 1916

FOLSOM FAMILY ASSOCIATION

The first reunion of the descendants of John Folsom and his wife Mary Gilman was held in Exeter, N. H., in the Congregational Church, Aug. 25, 1909. Mr. Israel Phillips Folsom, then of Lewiston, Me., was the enthusiastic originator of the idea of forming a family association. At this first meeting one hundred and twenty-eight descendants signed the register. The society was called the "Descendants of the Immigrant, John Folsom." The name was later changed to "Folsom Family Association."

The Association has held twenty-five reunions. The programs have been of an historic character, with papers written upon outstanding Folsoms and events, and in later meetings music of high standing has been a feature. Records of the reunions have been printed, consisting, besides the secretary's and treasurer's reports, a register of attendance, an absent member list, historical papers, poems, copies of wills and deeds of the early generations, a World War Honor Roll, photographs of family members, homes and memorials. A complete set of the Records may be found in several libraries and historical societies over the country. The titles of the historic papers will be found with the genealogical data of the writers, as also the names of the officers of the Association.

The main program of the seventh reunion, in Exeter, in 1916, was the unveiling of a tablet in memory of John Folsom and Mary Gilman, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Burt Folsom. This memorial stands at the juncture of Hampton and Kensington roads, which latter was laid out in 1704 through Lieutenant Peter<sup>2</sup> Folsom's field. The granite stone was originally the door-rock at the home of Minuteman James<sup>5</sup> Folsom, great grandfather of Wendell B. Folsom. The bronze tablet, which faces Hampton road, was made by the Exeter Brass Works founded by Ebenezer Folsom, whose son Wendell B. Folsom was then treasurer and general manager. The dedicatory address by Rev. Milo G. Folsom was printed in full in the Reunion Records.

At the reunion in 1935 another memorial was unveiled on Nottingham Square, N. H. This memorial was the generous gift of Mr. Charles Edwin Chase. The boulder, moved from the wall of the Simpson field, stands on the historic old Square near the site of the massacre of Sept. 1747, when Nathaniel Folsom, Robert Beard and Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson were killed by Indians. The address was given by Prof. Brainerd Mears.

The reunions have been held in various places, thus: 1st. in Exeter; 2nd. in Hingham, Mass.; 3rd. in Portland, Me.; 4th. in Boston, Mass.; 5th., 6th., 7th., 8th. in Exeter; 9th. in Gleasondale, Mass.; 10th. at North Beach, Hampton, N. H.; 11th at Tufts College, Medford, Mass.; 12th. Portsmouth, N. H.; 13th. Exeter; 14th. Portsmouth; 15th. Boston; 16th. West Epping, N. H.; 17th. Raymond, N. H.; 18th. Pawtuckaway Pond, Nottingham, N. H.; 19th. Exeter; 20th. Nottingham Square, N. H.; 21st. Pride's Crossing, Mass.; 22nd. Portsmouth; 23rd. Exeter; 24th. Nottingham Square; 25th. Sandown, N. H.

This part of the genealogy will be printed before the reunions of 1937 and 1938 which will be held respectively at Pride's Crossing and Exeter, when the latter place celebrates its three hundredth anniversary.

FOLSOM GENEALOGY

FIRST GENERATION

1. JOHN<sup>1</sup> FOLSOM, born* about 1615, in or near Hingham, England; died in Exeter, New Hampshire, 27 December 1681; married in Hingham, England, 4 October 1636, MARY GILMAN, eldest child of EDWARD and MARY (Clark) GILMAN, baptized in Hingham, 6 August 1615, and died in Exeter about 1692. The marriage record gives his name "John Fowlesham alias Smith."

John Folsom and his wife came to this country, with the Gilmans, in 1638, and settled in Hingham, Massachusetts. (See Introduction.) He was granted four acres of land which abutted upon the "Playne" eastward, and upon the "Common" westward. With Captain Joshua Hobart he had liberty from the inhabitants of the town to utilize certain streams for the purpose of erecting a saw-mill, or mills.

He was a member of the Hingham militia. In 1645 he was a selectman, one of those chosen to order the affairs of the town. In the same year he was implicated in the Anthony Eames affair, Eames having been appointed Captain of the military company by the government, was rejected by the townspeople, who elected Bozoan Allen. This result caused John Folsom (Foulsham) with others to be fined twenty pounds, but his fine was later remitted. He was representative from Hingham in 1654.

JOHN FOLSOM'S HOUSE IN HINGHAM

Of his house it was said in the Sprague Genealogy, in 1828, "that it was built before Daniel Cushing became town clerk in 1669, by John Foulsham, the author's (Sprague's) grandfather having bought it in 1744." It was taken down in 1875. Pictures of this old house, reproduced from an old engraving on metal, have been printed in various pamphlets and on cards. An oak arm chair made from its timbers was owned by Captain A. A. Folsom.

Mr. Arthur D. Marble (now deceased) a careful historian, has within recent years studied the old grants and plans ofouselots and their boundaries, and was firmly convinced that the old house taken down in 1875 could not have been a house built or owned by John Folsom. In 1931, Mr. Marble wrote the following notes on his "Plan showing grants of lands in the town of Hingham, as described in the town records:"

The old house formerly known as the John Foulsham (he never owned the house) stood on this lot. (Indicating Francis James's five acre lot. E.K.F.)

Under date of Aug. 17, 1715, in Suffolk Deeds, book 30, p. 3, we find the following: "whereas Francis James and Philip James, both of Hingham, died intestate, left lands in Hingham, the house where Francis James, eldest son of abovesaid Francis James now dwells, also land adjoining, being by estimation sixteen acres, bounded east and west by town's commons, south partly by land of Capt. James Hawkes, and part by land of Peter Ripley, north by land of Captain James Hawke."

In 1717, Thomas James sold to Thomas Andrews this same lot, described as the estate of my brother Francis James, deceased. Thomas Andrews sold to Daniel Greenleaf, deed dated Feb. 17, 1727, same lot. Daniel Greenleaf sold to Israel and Sarah Nichols, deed dated Nov. 27, 1734, the same lot.

I have not been able to find the transfers to successors, but in 1744 Daniel Beal sold the place to Isaac Sprague: bounded easterly by the training field, southerly by Peter Ripley, westerly by Daniel Beal, northerly by John Fearing. The Spragues owned the old house and land until recent years.

John Foulsham's four acres, bounded north by James Burke (James Burke's lot became a part of the James's property of sixteen acres), south by William Ripley, east by the Playne, west by the Common. William Ripley's will dated June 30, 1656, ". . . unto my son John all the land within that field, namely the lot the town gave me lying four acres, and the lot I bought of John Foulsham lying for four acres, and the lot I bought of Thomas Thaxter lying for five acres, and the lot I bought of Stephen Payne lying for four acres." A part of this land still (1931) belongs to descendants of William Ripley. (All these four lots of land were granted by the town in 1638 to John Foulsham, William Ripley, Thomas Thaxter and Stephen Payne. E.K.F.)

Thus it will be seen that John Foulsham's first grant of four acres in Hingham, he sold to William Ripley, before June 30, 1656.

In a deed dated July 9, 1659, John Foulsham sold to Daniel Cushing, of Hingham, (who married his wife's sister) "my houselot upon the plaine which I purchased of George Knight, bounded southerly by the Common or plaine, westerly with the land of Daniel Cushing lately purchased of Edward Gilman, east and north by land of John Mansfield lately Nicholas Jacob." (This was George Knight's grant of three acres in 1638, and was, on the map, next to Edward Gilman's grant of five acres. E. K. F.) There is no mention of a house on the lot sold in 1659.

It is with regret that the writer feels obliged, in view of the above evidence, to refrain from including in this work a picture of the so-long-called "John Folsom House." The picture brought forth much sentiment and admiration for its unique and impressive construction lines.

John Folsom and family probably removed to Exeter after the baptism of his youngest child, in Feb. 1654—or about 1655.

References to JOHN<sup>1</sup> FOLSOM in the FIRST RECORDS OF THE TOWN OF EXETER, NEW HAMPSHIRE, arranged chronologically:

In the typed copy of these Records, p. 35, the name of John<sup>1</sup> Folsom first appears thus: Town meeting "4 november 1647" "It is granted to Gorge Barloe forty acers of upland in the south sied of the fresh River [Layd out according to grant bounded with Hampton lyne ioyning to John Folsom Senior 60]" This statement, within the brackets, was probably a later addition to the town records, and the grant to George Barlow was not "layd out" until some years later, and after John Folsom had received a grant of land adjoining.

On the 22 of Jan. 1659 (p. 72): Goodman Folsom, Moses Gilman and Thomas Biggs were chosen select men to order the prudential affaires of the towne in all respects as other select men formerly.

Sixty acres layd out according to grant adjoining to Hampton lyne. (This would seem to refer to the 60 acres mentioned in 1647.)

Twenty acres of the Cataile Swampe layd and bounded next to Jonathan Thing. (p. 87)

At the same meeting John Folsom Senior was one of three men who have power given them to lay out high wayes where they shal judge convenient. (p. 87)

Dec. 1, 1664: The towne having taken into consideration the worth of masts & that every yeere they may be still of greater consequence and that his majesty for his owne shipping may cause some to be transported from hence. May 3, 1669: There was granted to John Folsom Senior twenty or thirty acres if it be there to be had lying between the head of James Walls great lot and Richard Morgans lot, and Philip Cartees, upon the right hand of the path going to Hampton. These 20 acres are layd out and bounded according to the grant butting upon the highway at Walls swampe. (p. 89)

The town lines not having been settled in 1668, at town meetings in 1670 and 1671, John Folsom, Sr. as "town measurer," was on committees to run the lines between Hampton and Exeter, and Exeter and Dover. (p. 93)

July 25, 1671: There was discovered by John Folsom Senior upon the measuring of the lyne betweene Dover & Exeter a parcel of meadow conteing to the quantity of twelve or sixteene acres, lying westward from Mr Symonds mill about two mile betweene Lamprey river and Dover lyne. (p. 94)

Mar. 25, 1672: John Folsom Senior, Moses Gilman were chosen Jury men. (p. 94)

In the description of the six-hundred acre land grant to Rev. Samuel Dudley, mention is made thus: neere unto John Folsom

Seniors planting feild, and if any land shall appear legally to be John Folsom Seniors, either granted to himselfe or to any other, within the said compasse, from whom he can claime just right and title from, may be allowed unto him, etc. (p. 98) This land was south of the great hill next to Pickpocket.

Apr. 2, 1675: Granted to John Folsome, Senior, two hundred acres from the meeting house two miles. (p. 106)

Same meeting: John Folsom, Senior is chosen in the roome of Moses Gilman, to be a towne measurer of lands. (p. 108)

Apr. 1, 1678: Leiftenant Hall and John Folsom Senior were chosen for Jury men of trialls. (p. 110)

Feb. 7, 1680: Moses Levit was chosen measurer and layer out of lands to be ioyned to Leiftenant Hall, Ensigne Moore, & John Folsom Senior who are deputed by the towne for that worke.

John Folsom Senior died in 1681, and the above will show that he was active in town affairs up to near the time of his death.

The above inventory would indicate that the estate of John Folsom, since his death, and perhaps for the support of his widow, had been reduced to the few old furnishings of one room and this room in the home of one of her sons.

The names of the children of John<sup>1</sup> Folsom and his wife, Mary, are found in the diary of Rev. Peter Hobart, of Hingham, Mass. who recorded the date at which he baptized each of them:

2. i. SAMUEL<sup>2</sup>, bapt. 3 Oct. 1641.

SECOND GENERATION

2. SAMUEL<sup>2</sup> FOLSOM (John<sup>1</sup>), bapt. in Hingham, Mass. 3 Oct. 1641; deposed 17 Feb. 1671/2, aged 32, thus b. about 1641; deposed 17 Feb. 1671/2, aged 32, thus b. about 1639/1640, and doubtless the eldest child of John<sup>1</sup> Folsom, for his name stands first on the record; the office of administrator on his father's estate was given him, in accordance with the custom which was to offer it to the widow or eldest son before any others of the family. He d. before 27 Feb. 1701/2, when his widow and eldest son renounce administration on his estate. He m. in Hampton, N. H., "22nd 10 mo 1664" (Hampton Rec.) MARY<sup>2</sup> ROBIE (dau. of Judge Henry<sup>1</sup>) of Hampton.

He was styled a "husbandman" and dealt some in lumber but engaged less in public affairs than his father and some of his younger brothers. (Chapman) On Oct. 10, 1664 he was granted by the town of Exeter fifteen acres of land "lying in old Salisbury way beyond James Walls land." (First Records of Exeter, N. H.) In 1668, Abraham Drake of Hampton, conveyed to "Samll ffulsham of Exiter, 2½ acre houslot in Exiter, bounded by Nath'l Boulter, now in ye hands of Saml ffoulsham, ye fresh river, a way and land granted to James Wall, Oct. 8, 1666." (Old Norfolk County Rec.)

In 1670 the town of Exeter "granted to Sam: Folsome, a parcel of land not exceeding two acres, between the head of his home lots and that which was called James Walls great lot." (First Records of Exeter) Also, in 1670, "Samll ffoulsham (or ffulsham) of Exiter, released to Lt. Ralph Hall of Exiter, 5 acres of marsh in Hampton, formerly a part of Mr. Wheelwright's farm, and part of the 16 acres said Hall bought of Tho: Philbrick." (Old Norfolk County Rec.). In 1671, Richard Morgan conveyed to "Samll ffolsome of Exiter a certain house and 2½ acre houselot in Exiter, bounded by ye land of Jno. Robinson now in ye tenure of Samll Levitt, Abraham Drake, now in ye occupation of grantee, and a common way yt goeth by ye fresh river." (Old Norfolk County Rec.)

In 1667, he promised a large quantity of lumber to Mr. (John) Cutts, of Portsmouth, and being paid in advance, he mortgaged his land to secure the delivery of it. (Chapman)

At court held in Salisbury April 1672, Henry Dering presented a "bill of cost against Samll Foulsham, 1 li. 13 s. 6d. and put an attachment upon his house and land." (Essex Court Files, Vol. 1. pp. 30, 104) Again in 1677, at the court held in Hampton, "John Severance v. Samll Foulsham. Debt. In board at 30s per thousand at Exiter. Verdict for plaintiff." (Essex Court Files, Vol. 6, p. 211) In 1677 "Samewell ffoulsham" was one of the signers of the Exeter Petition. In court at Salisbury April 9, 1678, "Samll Foulsham, presented for taking up a cow in the woods that did not belong to him and selling her, having found his own cow afterwards was admonished, court judging that it might have been a mistake at first, but after warning he did not desist." (Essex Court Files, Vol. 6, p. 423)

In 1676 Samuel Folsom served in King Phillips War. "Credit for military service, John Hull's ledger, Oct. 24, 1676, Samuel Foulsham— 00:01:08." (Bodge's "Soldiers of King Phillips War," p. 449)

Samuel Folsom's name occurs three times in the Second Book of Exeter Town Records, 1695-1724, in bounds of land grants, as: "Sam foulshams Lots," and "Samll foulshams land." On p. 67, . . . .at a town meeting, . . . . "then Laid out a town hi way upon ye south side of ye brook Comonly cald brays brook from ye salt water up ye old way that is comonly cald Sam foulshams way so runing from ye salt water into ye comons three rods wide."

Although Samuel<sup>2</sup> Folsom's wife Mary was a daughter of Judge Henry Robie, we do not find that she was shielded or excused for any slight deviation from the "straight and narrow path" of those times, for at the court held at Salisbury April 8, 1679, "Mary wife of Samuell Foulsam, presented for absence from the public worship of God, was ordered to appear before Capt. Gillman. And again, on Nov. 11th of that same year "summons to Samll Foulsam to have his wife Mary answer for being away from home at unseasonable times in the night, for appearance of uncivil carriage at a saw mill at Exeter." (Essex Court Files, Vol. 7, pp. 193, 284)

* * * * *

In January 1692 Samuel was appointed administrator upon the estate of "John and Mary Folsom both deceased." In the performance of this business he provoked his brother, Dea. John, who in his passion, by violent language, exposed himself to prosecution for a violation of the law; but after some deliberation the trouble was amicably settled.

PETITION OF MARY FOLSOM, WIDOW OF SAMUEL

At a Council and General Assembly held at Portsmouth, July 20, 1702, a petition from Mary Foulsham was read at the Board relating to her being released out of Prison being in for Debt, and a very poor woman as upon file. In answer to which petition his Excellency and Council doth order that the Secretary write to the Creditor or his attorney, who keeps the petitioner in gaol, that if they do not take care, to find out the petitioner's estate whereby he may satisfy his Debt by laying his execution thereupon in twenty days time at farthest, that then the said Creditor shall allow said Petitioner 2s 6d per week, or otherwise the petitioner to be discharged. (Miscellaneous Provincial Papers)

And thus we get another glimpse of Mary (Robie) Folsom in the struggles she had with the Puritan laws.

We do not find any children recorded to him, but in Sam: Lane's diary there are recorded these deaths: "Ruth Folsom d. Stratham, 1786, and Sarah, 1794, single women." Perhaps these were daughters of Ebenezer<sup>3</sup>.

On the 28th of Sept. 1668, the town of Exeter "granted to John Folsome, Junior, 20 acres of land about Salisbury old way between James Walls land and Hampton line provided it was not formerly given." That same year he was one of the men chosen to "run the line between Hampton and Exeter upon the line west and by north." On 22 Feb. 1670, "John Folsome, Jr. was added to the men formerly agreed upon to run the line between Hampton and Exeter, according to the Court order, that is to begin at ye bound tree at Asse brooke and soe to direct upon a direct lyne so as to leave Exeter falls a myle and halfe due north of ye same, and from thence upon a West and by north lyne to the extent of ten miles." (Exeter T. R.)

Oct. 24, 1676, John Foalsam given credit for military service in John Hull's ledger—00:03:04 (Bodge's "Soldiers of King Phillips War," p. 449)

He was chosen General Assemblyman in 1693, and also in Oct. and Nov. 1694, to meet in New Castle. (N. H. State Papers, Vol 4, pp. 625, 643)

John Folsom's name appears in the following court cases: Court at Hampton Oct. 11, 1664, "Abraham Drake v. John Fulsham, jr. for debt. Special verdict. If the evidence proved a legal demand, they found for defendant." In Court at Salisbury Nov. 11, 1679, "John Foulsham, jr. v. Hannah Foulsham, wife of Nathaniel for slanderously reporting Abigail wife of John Folsham, jr., judgment that Hannah should publish or publicly own this acknowledgment, 'that I hanna folsham have accused my sister Abigail Folsham for stealing meatt and other things from me and ten shillings in Monie from peter folsham, I now owne yt I have Done her wrong and am heartily sorrie for itt and shall labor to make satisfaction.' John Folsham, jr. was allowed costs for going to Hingham for evidence, etc.” (Essex Court Records)

In the first volume of Provincial Papers there is a deposition (pp. 554-7) from John Folsom, Jr. bearing date 1684 “that he had received a list of names in Exeter, with fines annexed, amounting to 50 pounds, that he was required by the Governor and Council to go and demand the sum; but the people refused to pay, saying the taxes should be raised by the General Assembly, which answer he gave to Governor and Council; whereupon they took the scroll out of his hands and delivered it to Thomas Thurton, provost marshal, and he was ordered by a warrant from the Secretary to aid said Thurton.”

This summary treatment was honorable to him from such a government as that of Cranfield's, and shows how “acceptably,” at least to the people if not to the party in power, he filled that special office of constable by forbearing to push the demand for oppressive and unconstitutional taxes and fines. The following quotation from the same portion of the Provincial Papers will show the sort of “aid” he gave to the provost marshal, and that he could turn with wrath and contempt on the public foes, deacon though he was. Under date of Dec. 29, 1684, there is a deposition of this Thurton, that “being sent to collect these fines, and one of 50 shillings on John Foulsham for neglecting the duty of his office as constable, Foulsham told him that if he came to levy execution at his house, he should meet him with a red-hot spit and scalding water; and bade him go, like a rogue as he was.” The women of the Gilman family must also have some of the fame of this affair, for the provost marshal adds, that “being at the house of Edward Gilman (son of the first Edward and lost at sea abt. 1653) the wife of James Gilman (grandson of the first Edward b. 1659) told him she had provided a kettle of scalding water for him, if he should come.” He thought it rather rough treatment, especially as no money had yet been demanded of them. (Chapman, p. 19)

In 1698 John Folsom, Jr. was granted 100 acres of land in Exeter.

4. NATHANIEL<sup>2</sup> FOLSOM (John<sup>1</sup>), bapt. in Hingham, Mass., 2 June 1644. The first time Nathaniel's name appears on record in Exeter was on the 10th of October, 1664, when at a town meeting he was granted "ten acres upon the pine hill next to Thomas Kings fall. Layd out according to grant, bounded with John Folsom, Senier, lying to the westward."

On June 9th 1674, Nathaniel<sup>2</sup> Folsom married (1) in Hingham, Mass., Hannah, daughter of John Farrow, of Hingham, who was bapt. 9 April 1648, and who prob. died before 1687 as she was not mentioned in her father's will in that year.

In 1676 we find the name of Nathaniel Folsom (Foulsam) among those who made advance of money and the sum so advanced, in King Philip's War—5s:6. (History of Rehoboth, Mass.)

On March 11, 1678, at a town meeting in Exeter, he was chosen one of the "Surveyors for the next yeere." And on April 1st, same year, he with several others, "were admitted and taken in inhabitants of the towne." On Aug. 8th, same year, he was on the jury, and later, "Nathll. Foulsham, bound for selling strong drinks without license was fined, but with respect to a public meeting of the 'troop of Norfolk at ye town of Exeter this summer, we might occasion more houses of entertainment than one,' court remitted the fine." (Records & Files of the Quarterly Courts of Essex County, Mass., p. 102-103.)

In 1680, Hannah, wife of Nathaniel<sup>2</sup>, was before the court for slandering her sister-in-law, Abigail, wife of Dea. John<sup>2</sup> Folsom. (See No. 3.)

On Oct. 12, 1687, "Nathaniel ffoulshame of ———, in Piscataway River, carpenter, to Benjamin Fitzrandolph, 30 acres of land in said Town of Piscatway (N. J.) also all claims to other land due him or his brother Israel by right of first settlement in the town." (New Jersey Archives, 1 ser. v. 21, p. 121) See Israel<sup>2</sup>.

Nathaniel<sup>2</sup> Folsom m. (2) Mary Roberts* (widow of George Roberts, and daughter of George Jones), before 1696, for on May 6th, 1696, "Nathaniel Foulsam, of Exeter, laborer, sold to Capt. Peter Coffin, of Exeter, two acres** in Exeter with house, barn and one-eighth of the Great Sawmill," and Mary Foulsam signed this deed with him.

Nathaniel Folsom was living in 1714 (Chapman) but in 1725 his widow Mary was taxed. The widow Mary married in old age, Moses<sup>2</sup> Norris, who was born in Exeter 14 Aug. 1670, and whose first wife was Ruth<sup>3</sup> Folsom (dau. of Samuel<sup>2</sup> Folsom); he died before 1741.

By second wife:

14. ii. NATHANIEL<sup>3</sup>.
15. iii. ISRAEL<sup>3</sup>.

Proof that the last two sons were by the second marriage may be found in New Hampshire Court Files 21715:

5. ISRAEL<sup>2</sup> FOLSOM (John<sup>1</sup>), bapt. in Hingham, Mass., 26 April 1646. He received a grant of ten acres of land from the town of Exeter on Oct. 10, 1664, the same day his brother Nathaniel<sup>2</sup> received his grant, and in the same locality. And about two years later, 1666, went with Nathaniel<sup>2</sup> to New Jersey*, where he died unmarried, in

*“In the summer of 1666, the then Governor of N. J., Philip Carteret, sent agents into New England to publish the unsurpassed privileges to be granted all settlers in East Jersey, provided sixty or more families were located there within three years. He offered great inducements in the way of land grants, allowed perfect freedom of conscience in religious beliefs, and promised every safeguard for their personal liberty. During that summer several families from Newbury, Mass., settled at Woodbridge and induced their New Hampshire friends to come to the Raritan river, near by. In fact these N. H. pioneers bought their Jersey property of these Massachusetts friends and moved there in the fall of 1666. This territory they named the New Piscataqua, which embraced about 40,000 acres, the deed for which was dated

1677. On April 6, 1677, "Inventory of estate of Israel Foulsham of New Piscataway, made by Francis Drake and John Smally jun. L 54.13.5." On June 7, 1677, "Letters of administration on the estate of Israel Fulsham, of New Piscataway, (bachelor) dec'd, granted to his kinsman John Gilman." (N. J. Archives I ser. v. 21, p. 40) May 14, 1678 "ffoulsham, Israel of New Piscataway. Account of the estate of, by the administrator thereof, his kinsman John Gilman of Piscataway, showing payments," etc. Middlesex Wills. (N. J. Archives, I ser. v. 23, p. 170)

6. LT. PETER<sup>2</sup> FOLSOM (John<sup>1</sup>) bapt. in Hingham, Mass., 8 April 1649; d. intestate in Exeter, N. H. in 1717/18; m. 6 May 1678, SUSANNA COUSINS*, dau. of Thomas<sup>1</sup> Mills and Mary<sup>2</sup> Wadleigh (John<sup>1</sup>) of Wells, Me., and widow of Isaac<sup>2</sup> Cousins (Isaac<sup>1</sup>), who was killed by Indians, in Wells, in 1675.

Peter<sup>2</sup> Folsom's name is first mentioned in the Town Records of Exeter when he received a grant of ten acres of land on October 10th 1664, in the same location with brothers Nathaniel and Israel. On March 30, 1670 the town again granted him thirty acres "being part of that parcel of land which Capt. Wiggin gave to the town of Exeter," he to bind himself with the other grantees, "each of them ten pounds apeece to the towne to try the title

Dec. 18, 1666, made in the name of John Martin, Hopewell Hull, Charles Gilman and Hugh Dunn. And to this day in this same New Jersey township are small villages named for the towns on the Piscataway from which they emigrated, viz.: New Dover, New Durham, New Market, all in the original New Piscataqua township, Middlesex county."

*The following York, Me., deeds prove the parentage of Susanna, wife of Lt. Peter<sup>2</sup> Folsom: V. 4. Aug. 12, 1685, Peter Folsam (Foullsum) sold to Robert Wadleigh et ux & John Wadleigh "one sixth part of the farm of John Wadleigh's in Wells." The same day John Wadleigh sold to Peter Folsom "one third part of a farm in Wells, formerly my grandfather's, John Wadleigh's as by gift from my father Robert<sup>2</sup> Wadleigh, bounded on land of uncle Thomas Mills, and on other side with land of said Peter Foullsum, which he lately bought of my father Robert<sup>2</sup> Wadleigh," etc. . . . June 27, 1689, "Peter Folsham et ux to William Sawyer, one half the farm, originally John<sup>1</sup> Wadleigh's in Wells" (V. 6). Feb. 16, 1721/2, Susanah Folsham, Widow, Relict of Lieut. Folsham, of Exeter, sold to Francis Sawyer of Wells 1/4 part of land and marsh that John Wadleigh of Wells gave unto his daughter Mary Mills, etc. 18 July 1664 (Vol. 11).

of their lands with the towne of Hampton if need require.”
(First Records of Exeter)

Again on January 30, 1680, the town granted him “one hundred acres within the town limits”; and in 1700 Peter Folsom, Sr. was granted another hundred acres.

On Nov. 12, 1670, “John Payne of Boston, merchant, for boards paid by Lt. Peter Coffyn of Dover, conveyed to Peter ffulsham of Exiter, my fourth of a saw mill at Exiter, the other three fourths being at present in ye possession of Jno Gillman, Jonathan Thing and John ffulsham, jr.” (Old Norfolk County Records)

July 18, 1671, Peter Folsom was one of the men chosen to run the line between Dover and Exeter. On March 10th 1672 he “was admitted into the towne for inhabitant.” (First Records of Exeter)

In 1673, he was made attorney for his father in the Court at Salisbury, at which same time he was deeded “all my buildings and land”....in ye towne of Hingham”.... (England.)

March 11, 1678, Peter Folsom was appointed one of a committee of three “to determine the town debts and the legality of the same.”

February 18, 1678, he was one of six men requesting the erection of a gallery in the Exeter Meeting “for their wives.” (First Records of Exeter)

August 18, 1692, he was one of the men “chosen Surveyors of ye by wayes for ye yare Insuen.” April 20, 1694, he was one of the men chosen by the town to purchase “a sartin house and land lying and being nere unto the present metten house,”....for ye use and benefit of ye minister of ye towne” & c.

He served on the jury in 1677, 1694 and 1698; on the grand jury in 1678, 1679, 1683, 1684, 1695, 1699.

From the Second Book of Exeter Town Records:

April 17, 1700, “peter foulsham sener” was granted 100 acres of land six miles from the town.

April 1, 1701 “Leftt peter foulsham” was chosen constable; and in April 1707 "peter foulsham" was voted one of the "survaires of ye highways & vewers of fencis for ye yere insuing."

Lt. Peter<sup>2</sup> Folsom was given "Credit for Military Service" Oct. 24, 1676, in John Hull's ledger. (Bodge's "Soldiers in King Phillip's War," p. 449) He was "Ensign" in 1692, and was also Lieutenant. From March 5 to April 2, 1696, he was in Captain Kinsley Hall's "first company of militia in Exeter." (History of Exeter, p. 218)

He signed the petition against Governor Cranfield, and was named juryman for the trial of Edward Gove and his accomplices. When Mason brought suit to recover lands from the occupants in the various towns, Peter Folsom as well as his brothers John, Nathaniel and Ephraim, of Exeter, were among those sued, but there is no evidence that any of their holdings were ever turned over to Mason.

His signature to the Exeter Petition is: "Petter ffoullsham."

The home of Peter Folsom was at the corner of Hampton and Kensington roads (now High Street), on the site of the present house of Charles W. Barker. It was through Lieut. Peter Folsom's field that this road to Kensington was laid out in 1704.

The memorial to John<sup>1</sup> Folsom and his wife Mary Gilman was erected on a triangular plot of land at the juncture of these roads, the land originally a part of the homestead of Lieut. Peter Folsom. This memorial was unveiled September 30, 1916. The address given at the exercises on this date, by the Rev. Milo G. Folsom, then of Portland, Me., is printed in full in the Seventh Annual Reunion Report of the Folsom Family Association.

THIRD GENERATION

9. ISRAEL<sup>3</sup> FOLSOM (Samuel<sup>2</sup>, John<sup>1</sup>), b. in Exeter, N. H.; d. between 29 Mar. and 15 Apr. 1749; m. (1) in Hampton Falls, N. H. RACHEL BERRY, of Greenland, N. H. (Record of Marriages Consummated by Rev. Theophilus Cotton, in Hist. of Hampton Falls, p. 128) He m. (2) after 1740, SARAH HULL*, widow of Benjamin Hull, and dau. of Rev. John Drake, first pastor of the Piscataway Baptist Church, in Middlesex County, New Jersey.

Israel<sup>3</sup> Folsom was a weaver. He owned land in Exeter and Stratham. He removed to Ashford, Conn., about 1720, where he purchased lands between 1721 and 1728. [Deeds recorded in Warrenville (Ashford) Conn.]

On Oct. 4, 1724, he was received into the Church in Ashford, and baptized and at the same time four of his children were also baptized, viz: Samuel<sup>4</sup>, Nathaniel<sup>4</sup>, Mary<sup>4</sup>, and Israel<sup>4</sup>. His wife, Rachel Folsom, was received into full communion on the 6th of Apr. 1729.

Mar. 28, 1730, Israel Folsom of Ashford bought of Amos Dodge, for £350, his house lot on town street. (Deed C. p. 54)

Aug. 7, 1730, Israel Fullsom of Ashford for the benefit of himself & inhabitants of the County, gives to Capt. Timothy Pierce, Esq., Capt. John Fitch, Esq., Tho: Huntington, Esq., Ebenezer West, Esq., Joseph Adams, Esq., Mr. Joshua Ripley, Esq., and the rest of the inhabitants of the Co. of Windham, "part of my home lot I bot of Amos Dodge, 6 square rods, beginning at N. E. corner of my home lot; east on Commons on meeting house green, etc. . . . . for a court house." (Authority for above deeds, Mr. Frank M. Hawes, of Hartford, Conn. 1923)

In 1733 Israel Folsom had sold all his lands and estate in Ashford, and was then of Windham, Conn. Mar. 9,

*Sarah Drake m. Benjamin Hull, as second wife, abt. 1703. He d. 1732. as his will was probated Jan. 4th, 1733. She m. (2) Israel Folsom after Apr 14, 1740 when as "Sarah Hull" she deeded property.

1733 he had recorded in the registry of deeds of the town of Windham, Book 7, p. 283, a deed of trust and power of attorney to "my loving wife, Rachel Folsom." In this deed he grants her the most complete power and authority to act for him in every condition of affairs. Rachel's name does not appear on other deeds and transactions of Israel to 1736, when his name disappears from Connecticut records. Rachel probably d. about 1733-1734.

We next find Israel Folsom living in New Jersey, as per the following: Israel<sup>3</sup> Folsom's marriage to the widow, Sarah Hull, proved to be an unhappy one. On Feb. 20, 1748/9 (N. J. Archives 1st Series, Vol. 12, p. 518) is the following: "Whereas Sarah the wife of Israel Folsom of Piscataway in East New Jersey eloped from her husband's Bed and Board about ten years ago, and thereon her said husband posted her, forbidding all Persons to trust her on his account. But said Sarah came to his house on Saturday the 14th instant and stayed all night and went off again the next day refusing to stay with him, Therefore he again desires no person to trust her on his Account she being eloped and continues so.

(Signed) Israel Folsom."

Evidently Sarah had returned to live with her own children, while Israel's daughters kept his home. Both Israel and Sarah d. in 1749, and both made wills, Israel's will was dated 29 Mar., 1749, proved 15th of Apr. and recorded 23rd of June. "Israel Folsom of Piscatia in East New Jersey, yeoman," . . . .provides for debts and funeral charges out of real and personal estate, . . . .gives to daughter Sarah Redor, wife of Thomas Redor, of Bethlehem, tailor, . . . . "one cow and also one Feather bed with the Bedding belonging to it." "To loving Daughters Mary Folsom and Rachel Folsom all those two parcels of land lying in Piscatua one of which I purchased of Peter Winants and the other of the widow Sarah Hull, and my will and meaning is that the said Mary hold and enjoy Two Third parts thereof to her, . . . and the said Rachel hold and enjoy the other one third" . . . The daughter Mary, and Robert Matthews, of Piscatua (Piscataway) were made executors. Israel Folsom makes no mention of his sons in this will, probably having given them their share of his estate when he sold out in Conn. Neither does he mention his wife Sarah (Hull) Folsom. And Sarah in her will dated May 2nd 1749, proved on the 22nd, makes no mention of her step-children. "Sary Folsom of the town of Piscattaway County of Middlesex, Province of New Jersey, widdow," bequeathes to her sons Joseph and Trustrum Hull; daus. Anne Skilman, wife of John; Elizabeth Clawson, wife of John; Eunice Dunn, wife of Phineas; son-in-law Moses FitzRandolph; grandson Benjamin Dunn, son of Jeremiah Dunn; grandson Moses FitzRandolph, son of Moses; grandson Mesheek Hull, son of Benjamin; grandson Benjamin Hull, son of Jacob Hull; granddaughter Zerviah Martin, dau. of Mulford Martin.

On Sept. 2nd 1751 (N. J. Archives 1st Series, Vol. 19, p. 97) "To be sold at public Vendue on Tuesday the first day of October next, two good Dwelling Houses with the land thereto belonging in Piscataway in East New Jersey. One is a good large Stone House formerly belonging to Benjamin Hull and lately to Israel Folsom, situate two miles and a half from New Brunswick on the High Road to Woodbridge....Good orchards adjoining both places with about 20 acres of good land. Also about 100 acres of which 20 is cleared, the remainder woodland.

*Not having been able to establish proof of descendants by family or town vital records, or through deeds and wills in the south, although there is no doubt in the writer's mind as to the line of descent, it is thought best to print under the above headings. Three trips have been made to North Carolina and Georgia, in trying to find records that would give absolute proof.

Nathaniel Folsom; Mary<sup>4</sup> who m. James Robinson, of Stratham, and Martha<sup>4</sup> who m. Maximilian Hazelton (Genealogical Dictionary of Maine and New Hampshire by Charles Thornton Libbey).

On Aug. 15, 1720, "Nathaniel Folsom and Susanna Folsom, his wife, of Stratham, sold to James Tyler of Arundel or else Cape Porpus all right we have or ever had or ought to have in the lands, meadows, Timber and River in Scarboro at Blew Point in Province of Maine in County of York lying between Saco River and Sperwink River which came by our great grandmother, Elinor Jackson (or by the Jacksons)." (York Deeds, Vol. 11.)

About 1730 he returned to Exeter and bought lands on the road to Copy Hole in that part of the town which in 1742 became Brentwood. In 1743 he sold his homestead to his son John, and was in 1747 killed by Indians in Nottingham whither he had gone to aid in protecting the settlers. When his companions returned, he remained, feeling sure there were Indians about, to protect Robert Beard, and while the two men were at dinner in Beard's house, both were shot. The Indians then went to the home of Andrew Simpson and stabbed Elizabeth, his wife, who had left the garrison and gone to her home to bake bread. (For a fuller account of this massacre Note B, page 24 in the Appendix of the Chapman edition. Also the family tradition in the Morrill family written by Lieutenant Harry L. Symonds, and printed in the Records of the Eighteenth Annual Reunion Report, 1929; also, the Address by Professor Brainerd Mears at the unveiling exercises of the boulder and tablet erected on Nottingham Square in 1935, and printed in the Records of the Twenty-Fourth Annual Reunion Report.)

Administration on the estate of Robert Beard was granted on September 30, 1747. This would approximate the date of the Nottingham massacre as sometime in September of that year. (Probate Records, Vol. 3, pp. 490-491)

* "In 1745, at the age of 21," Jonathan<sup>4</sup> Folsom "was lieutenant in Captain Somersby Gilman's company, which fought under Sir William Pepperel, at the first capture of Louisburg. Ten years later, in 1755, he was in the expedition to Lake George against Crown Point, where many of his fellow-soldiers fell in battle, and where his brother, then captain, acquired much honor by his bold and successful attack upon the French and Indians. At this battle he received a dangerous bullet wound through his shoulder under the collar-bone, the scars of which he carried through life. Having fought so often and exposed his life in defence of the English government, he would naturally feel reluctant to engage in opposition to it. So when the Stamp Act was repealed, in 1766, and there was a prospect of peace, there was much rejoicing. At the celebration, May 19, 1766, he lost one leg by the bursting of a cannon. It is said to have been an old swivel which had been buried nearly twenty years, which the enthusiastic citizens in the excitement of the occasion had dug up and had brought into use, without the precaution of testing its strength. One would suppose that under these circumstances it was time for him to retire. But, when the Revolutionary War commenced, he set out for another campaign, and found his way to Bunker Hill. Here he hobbled into battle on his wooden leg, and took charge of a mortar. It is said that at the second shot he threw a bomb upon the deck of a British man-of-war, which led her to draw off as soon as possible into safer quarters. His posterity have become numerous and widely scattered, many of them in the west. His son Jonathan was many years town-clerk in New Durham." . . .

SILHOUETTE OF GEN. NATHANIEL<sup>4</sup> FOLSOM (27)

TAVERN OF COL. SAMUEL<sup>4</sup> FOLSOM (28)
AS ORIGINALLY BUILT ABOUT 1787

....“begins at the upper Corner of the barn by the way”
....“as also the Barn standing on Sd Lot.” This land was near the present First Church. He lived on the site of the Squamscot Hotel, his house being moved further up Front St., to near the home of Charles Merrill, and later moved to Newmarket road; standing 1937.

Gen. Nathaniel Folsom was one of the original proprietors of Sandwich, N. H., and was a large land holder. In 1770 he purchased of Samuel Gilman for ten pounds, “all that Wharff & Warehouse thereon opposite my now Dwelling House.”....

His military spirit had come down to him from his earliest ancestors both on his father's and on his mother's side. His grandfather Nathaniel Ladd had served in King Phillip's War and in King William's War in 1690, where he was wounded at Maquoit, near Cape Elizabeth, Maine, and d. at Exeter, 11 Aug. 1690. Nathaniel joined the militia at an early age. His father, a farmer, d. when he was but 14 years of age.

Captain of an Exeter Company at Fort Edward, in Sept. 1755, Nathaniel Folsom commanded the famous scouting party that gallantly fought and defeated a much larger force of French and Indians in the forest where each man “took his tree.” The story of this fighting is a valuable FOLSOM relic which is now in the collection of the Mass. Historical Society.

After his Fort Edward service, Nathaniel Folsom was called to various Military duties, rising to the rank of Colonel, while pursuing the lumber business and that of a merchant of Exeter. He was pronounced and fearless in his patriotism, participating in all the events leading to the freedom of the Colonies, including the raid which stripped Fort William & Mary of its arms and ammunitions, four months before the battle of Lexington.

At a meeting of N. H. Deputies at Exeter, July 21, 1774, he was elected, with Major John Sullivan, a delegate to the First American Congress, which assembled at Carpenter's Hall in Philadelphia, Sept. 5, 1774. He was called by the Provincial Congress, April 21, 1775, to consult on measures to be taken.

On May 22, 1775, the N. H. Provincial Congress at Exeter voted: "that Colonel Nathaniel Folsom be appointed to take the general command of the men that may be raised in this government for this season." On June 3, 1775 this Congress voted "that General Folsom as Brigadier General and first commander of the N. H. Forces, under the Commander-in-Chief of the New England Army, be allowed the same wages as a Brigadier General shall receive in the Mass., service.....and equally command all the N. H. Forces".....and on June 30, 1775, voted "that General Folsom's commission be dated the 24th May and that he rank as a Major General." He was then 49 years of age.

Besides his duties in organizing, equipping, supplying and directing the New Hampshire Troops, General Folsom was constantly called upon for civil service. He was chosen to the following:

Mar. 19, 1777 on committee to amend the laws of N. H.

Apr. 1, 1777, a delegate to represent New Hampshire in the Continental Congress. During this service he served on a Committee of Congress at General Washington's Headquarters at Valley Forge to concert with him in planning "promotion of good discipline and economy in the Army." He was a staunch defender of General Washington.

Feb. 1779, and 1783, he was again returned to Congress. Oct. 1782, he was made President of the Convention held at Concord to adopt the Civil Constitution of the State. He was Justice of the Superior Court of Common Pleas; one of the Councillors of the State; Justice of the Peace throughout the State; and held office of Judge until his death.

Nov. 1788, he was elected by popular vote a member of the First Electoral College for the first President of the United States.

"Major-General Nathaniel Folsom, 1726-1790" by Elizabeth K. Hills (Mrs. Francis L.), a great-great granddaughter of Gen. Folsom,—in the Fifth Annual Report of the F. F. A., 1913.

Gen. Folsom bought and sold many pieces of land in various towns in New Hampshire, and at his death owned thirty-six lots in the town of Sandwich. He had a large stock farm in Exeter, and another in Brentwood which was occupied by a tenant farmer. Both farms were well stocked with oxen, cows, calves, steers, bulls, sheep, lambs, hogs, "Store pigs" and horses.

He owned 130 acres in Deerfield with the buildings thereon; 88 acres in Brentwood with buildings, and a 16 acre pasture in Brentwood; 130 acres in Exeter at the Plains with buildings; 40 acres in the north part of Exeter; half a mansion house in Dover "now occupied by Josiah Folsom"; right in the house and land in Exeter "now occupied by Mrs. Adams." The long list of household goods, wearing apparel and books make very interesting reading.

He also owned shares in mills and wharf properties in Exeter. The amount of his estate was £4207:11:0.

COL. SAMUEL FOLSOM

Col. SAMUEL FOLSOM, a brother of Gen Nathaniel Folsom, was a well-known and respected citizen, in 1776. His house was at the easterly corner of Court Square and Water street, and is now occupied by Mr. George W. Dearborn. It is believed to have been built a year or two before the date mentioned, probably to replace a former edifice removed or destroyed. Col. Folsom kept a public house, as his widow continued to do many years after his death. He was lieutenant and colonel of the Exeter corps of Independent Cadets, commanded by Col. John Phillips. He was intrusted with much important business, during the Revolution, requiring sound and tried capacity, and devotion to his country's interests.

After John Langdon, in the midst of the apprehensions excited by the triumphant incursion of Burgoyne, inspirited the people of New Hampshire, by the offer of his private property, to organize an expedition under Gen. Stark, with the purpose of turning back the invader, Col. Folsom was delegated by President Weare, Chairman of the Committee of Safety, to visit Gen. Stark, to convey him money for contingent expenses, to learn how his expedition was progressing, what articles it stood in need of, and to "advise with all persons in the service of this state on such things as he thought needful to forward the business they are engaged in." His confidential and discretionary mission appears to have been executed to the satisfaction of all parties; and we know how thoroughly Stark was enabled to perform the part required of him, when he met the enemy at Bennington.

A couple of years afterwards Col. Folsom was selected by the General Court to discharge the agreeable duty of presenting in behalf of the state, to Col. Joseph Cilley, a pair of pistols which had been the property of Col. Stephen Holland, the tory absentee; and the receipt of Col. Cilley remains to testify that the commission was duly accomplished.

It was at the house of Col. Folsom that President GEORGE WASHINGTON stopped and partook of a collation, when he visited Exeter in his tour through the Eastern states, in the autumn of 1789.

He served in the Rev. war as private in Capt. Benjamin Titcomb's Co., entered May 29, 1775; he enlisted again Apr. 22, 1776 in the Continental Army (N. H. Rev. War Rolls, Vol. 1, pp. 142, 298; Vol. 2, p. 574; Vol. 3, p. 624; Vol. 4, p. 261). He signed two petitions to build a bridge in Dover by lottery, Dec. 1786 and Jan. 3, 1791 (Early Town Papers, Vol. XI, pp. 545, 553).

Josiah Folsom was "a hair-dresser and wig-maker, fond of travel and not very successful in gathering worldly gear."

“Their home was in Dover on the rising ground southwardly from the village and had a fine outlook over fields and village, and toward river and sky and distant hills; but it was very humble, and the income of its owner quite meagre. He had indeed rich stores of anecdote and results of observation making him one of the most entertaining men of his day; but this did not bring comfort to his household nor advantages for his children. His four sons, one by one, early left the cabin home and went forth into the great world. The parents found a home in their old age with their youngest son, Nathaniel, in Portsmouth, where both died.”

He petitioned for a lottery in aid of the bridge (Newfields) in 1760; in 1766 he was one of the grantees of Burton (now Albany), N. H.; was an innholder in 1767; elder in the church in 1774. He was delegate to the Third Provincial Congress, in Exeter, Apr. 21, 1775, and also to the Fourth Congress May 17, 1775. While a member of the Provincial Congress on July 4th, it was voted "That a Public Stock of Fire Arms be provided for this Colony" and Capt. Jeremiah Folsom was on a committee to procure 500 good fire arms as soon as may be.

He was appointed Lieutenant Colonel of the Fourth Regiment Militia on Aug. 24, 1775. The following November the Provincial Congress voted that he be paid out of the Treasury the balance of his accounts for firearms amounting to three pounds seven shillings two pence and one farthing.

The following year, a petition was sent to the General Assembly signed by men of the Fourth Regiment Militia praying that he might be dismissed from the service, they thinking he was interfering with their rights in selecting officers. This petition was read and received due consideration and a time was fixed by the House for a hearing, with the instruction "that the Petitioners at their own cost serve the said Lieut. Col. Jeremiah with a copy of the Petition & order thereon. That he may appear & show cause if any he have why the Prayer thereof should not be granted."

After the hearing and due consideration in conference, a committee was chosen to join with similar committees of the Council to try to effect a reconciliation between the parties but Col. Folsom, not being able to attend the meeting of these committees in person, a reconciliation could not be effected, & therefore they "advise, that for the sake of the Peace, Union & Good order of that part of the Regiment He the said Lieut. Col. Folsom, Resign his Commission, all which is humbly submitted in the name & pr. order of the Committee."

It was ordered that a copy of this report be sent to Colonel Folsom "that he may Give his answer to this house as soon as may be." It seems that Col. Folsom refused to resign his commission, and was "discharged from his office"; and the House a week later, Sept. 19, 1776, voted "That Samuel Dudley, Esq., be Lieutenant Colonel of the Fourth Regiment of Militia in this State in room & stead of Jeremiah Folsom, Esq., who is dismiss." (Petition printed in Early Town Papers, Vol. XIII.)

He signed the Association Test Apr. 12, 1776.

In 1777, he headed the petition (Town Papers, Vol. XIII, p. 26) to divide the Congregationalists and Presbyterians by poll, and he became a member of the Western Society (Pres.) in 1778. His sons Levi, John, Enoch, & Simeon were also members of this society. He and wife were enthusiastic followers of George Whitefield and drove long distances with their span of horses to attend his preaching.

He was Moderator and Selectman in 1784.

Glorianna Folsom was noted for her beauty, and when quite young was called the belle of the village. The story of her marriage to LORD STIRLING, which took place in Stratford, Conn. 10 Mar. 1771, has been the subject of articles in newspapers: Romances in British Life.

They had 18 children, the first two being born in Stratford. Alexander Folsom, a nephew of Glorianna Folsom Stirling, who died in Bay City, Mich. in 1890, had in his possession a memorial ring which was one of several presented by Lord Stirling to members of the Folsom family at the time of the decease of his wife. These memorial rings were made of heavy gold with a receptacle where the seal would ordinarily be and in the receptacle was placed a lock of his late wife's hair, and then sealed with a glass top.

The following is the story of Glorianna Folsom's romantic marriage as told by her brother's granddaughter, Mrs. E. F. Norris, of Glens Falls, N. Y. Mrs. Norris was brought up in the family of Rev. John Folsom, of Glens Falls, a younger brother of Lady Stirling, and was well acquainted with all the circumstances connected with the marriage.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE

About 1768 the only son of the Baronet, Sir John Stirling, (descended from Sir John Stirling who was knighted in 1430, and was armor bearer to King James I of Scotland) Scotland, was sent to one of the West India Islands to look after some property belonging to his mother. He was well supplied with clothing, etc. He was to write home for money, if he should need it, putting a private mark upon his letter. After a while he was taken very sick of a fever. When he wrote he forgot about putting the private mark upon his letters, and so received no answers to them, and was in a pitiable state among strangers, without funds or good health. Providentially a sea-captain, from Stratford, Ct., came to board at the same house where he was staying. He took pity on him, and kindly offered to carry him home, in his vessel, without any money. He told Stirling he could write to his father from Connecticut. He gladly accepted the offer, and sailed with him to a more healthful climate. Some time after he left, a letter came from his father in Scotland to some person in the town or near the place where he had been, inquiring for his son, John Stirling. The answer returned was, that he had been there, had been very sick, and they could not learn what had become of him. They supposed he must be dead.

When the young man had reached the home of his benefactor, refreshed by the sea voyage, he did not "travel incognito," nor assume any other name. He had no money to expend in travelling; he had given up hope of receiving aid from home. But he determined to make an honest living by the proper use of what he had kept during the days of disappointment, poverty and sickness. The education he had received in Scotland now became his means of support, for the people of Stratford were glad to pay him for instructing their children. Among the pupils under his care was Miss Folsom, who, though about 18 years of age, was more anxious to acquire an education than to secure a husband. It is not known whether he wrote home from this place or not, but he heard nothing from home. It is not strange that under these circumstances, when he had become acquainted with her moral character and intellectual abilities, he should be captivated by her beauty, and find his affection reciprocated. They were married in 1771, and he continued in his office as teacher. After the birth of their first child, Mary, a young minister who, according to the custom of the Episcopal church, was going to Scotland to be ordained, having made the acquaintance of Stirling, offered to hunt up his father and family when he reached Scotland, and inquire why they did not answer their son when he wrote to them. Stirling seemed to think it was of no use. But the clergyman, having become interested in him, insisted upon his giving him the means of proving to them that he was their long lost son, still living. He was furnished with a list of the supplies which his parents had put up for him when he left home, such as clothing, etc., evidence to satisfy them of his identity.

His clerical friend sailed for Scotland. But he had deeply stirred up the recollections of home in the mind of the quiet teacher. He dreamed one night that he was again with his parents, in the home of his childhood, and of that private mark which he was to put upon every one of his letters, and which he had forgotten. When the young clergyman reached Scotland, he soon found the family. The mother and sister were dressed in deep mourning. When he asked them if they had a son who went to the West Indies, they commenced weeping, and said he was dead. He at last convinced them that their son was alive, telling them his circumstances. They were overjoyed, and at once wrote for him to come home on the first vessel, without waiting for his wife and child to get ready, and in due time they would send for them. He did so. It is very possible, and even probable, that the gossips, when he took leave so suddenly, concluded that he must have been an imposter, and lamented the sad condition of the deserted wife and her little daughters,—for she had a second daughter, Jane, born soon after the departure of her husband. But there is no proof that she heard nothing from him for two years, as the story says. It may have seemed a long period to the neighbors, but, after he had had time to prepare a home for her, and a large quantity of beautiful clothing was made up for his wife and children, the ship left and arrived safely in New York. She received the request to embark immediately. She left Stratford with her children, and found in the vessel everything which she needed, provided for their comfort and convenience, and a servant maid to aid her in the care of the children. She reached Scotland in due time, and her husband, as only son, succeeded to the estate and the honors of the Baronet Stirling, and she became Lady John Stirling. I have in my possession a long letter from her husband to her brother, John Folsom, Esq., merchant in Albany, and afterwards of Glens Falls, N. Y., an elder and a preacher in the Presbyterian church; and another written just after her death by her oldest daughter, Mrs. Mary Achison. She was not only a beautiful woman, but a woman of remarkable energy of character. They lived for a time near Stirling Castle, and afterwards, by the request of his father, in Edinburgh, near his father's residence. They had eighteen children, of whom sixteen lived to be old enough to attend the Parish church, at the same time with their parents, one Sabbath. Though she only saw one of her father's family, a brother, after she left, she never forgot the happy days of her early life, and used to tell her daughters of the scenes through which she had passed in childhood and youth, perhaps the happiest days she ever knew,—for with wealth and honor came many trials, which she endured with Christian patience and fortitude.

Rev. John Folsom left home at the age of 14, learned the trade of a silversmith, and settled in Albany, N. Y. where he joined the Presbyterian church. After his marriage he became a merchant, but meeting with reverses, he closed business there, went to Union Village (now Greenwich), Washington County, and in 1806, to Glens Falls, N. Y. where he had a farm and engaged extensively in the lumber trade. In 1818 he built a large mansion house on the west side of Main St. which is still standing.

In the midst of his business he continued to be an earnest, active Christian, and at the organization of the church was chosen elder, and afterwards licensed to preach the Gospel. His memorial remains in the history of the church for which he freely contributed his money, his time and his talents.

"In June 1786, arrangements were begun for repairs to the church edifice. Trustees Henry and Watson appointed a committee to enquire respecting lead taken out of the church for the use of the Army and to demand return of the same. Also made enquiry of John Fulsom, a pew holder, whether he would be willing to 'warn to Funerals walk before the Corps and to have the Perquisites allowed for the same.' He accepted the office at an honorarium of twelve shillings." (Journal of the Presbyterian Historical Society, Vol. 5, No. 5, March 1910)

Nathaniel<sup>5</sup> Folsom, the youngest child of Josiah<sup>4</sup>, when a lad of eleven years began to earn money for his parents. At twelve or thirteen he became the apprentice of Col. Woodward, a baker in Portsmouth, and "used to walk from Stratham to Portsmouth once every week, often bare-footed." At the age of nineteen he started in business for himself as a baker, employed a colored man (Pompi Spring) to carry his bread around and sell it at a public stand, giving him one-half the net proceeds. At twenty-one he bought the house and lot (for a home for his parents and sister) in the rear of the old North Church, for which he paid in silver. He soon became a merchant, a ship owner, and in 1836 retired on the income of a small capital. His wife was a true helpmeet

“rising while it was yet night, to give meat to her household,” . . . “stretching out her hand to the poor,” “eminently religious, a great reader and thinker, as her father and mother were before her, stimulating her children to honorable endeavors in life.” Nathaniel Folsom was a member of A. He served as lieutenant under General Worth, in the war against the Seminoles in Florida, and conducted a body of Indians to their new home in Oklahoma. After serving in various places in the Northwest, he was in 1844 ordered to the military academy at West Point, as instructor. In 1846 he was sent under Colonel Stevenson to California, as Quartermaster of the 1st Regiment New York Volunteers. He landed in the spring of 1847, and in selecting a site for the army stores, he chose the village Yerba Buena, soon called San Francisco. He here invested his funds, and engaged with deep interest in the improvement of the place. The discovery of gold aided in the rapid development of the new city, and in a few years it is said his fortune had risen to eleven millions, and a magnificent street was called by his name. Amidst all the cares and toils of his civil and military life, he continued his interest in literary pursuits, and remained the same quiet, gentlemanly companion. If his surviving relatives reaped no benefit from his immense fortune, he left them the reputation of an honest man, whose pure life and firm integrity have established a character beyond reproach. He was a fine scholar, pure in principles, correct in habits, and enthusiastic in his profession. He had been appointed a surgeon in the U. S. navy, and was looking forward to a useful life, with flattering prospects, but was suddenly cut down as he was about to enter his chosen field of labor.

Having been left fatherless at four years of age, Benjamin Randall Folsom was set to work upon a farm while yet a child. It was only during the winter that he was able to attend school on the then frontier of western New York. At the age of fourteen he became employed in a store in Attica, N. Y., and remained there until he became of age. He then went into business for himself and succeeded so well that in a few years he was able to buy a large tract of land about ten miles west of Attica, and there established the village of FOLSOMDALE, where he built and operated stores, mills and factories, besides farming the land, with the assistance of his brother, John B. Folsom, who became his partner. About 1850 he returned to Attica, and there erected flour and saw mills, which remain as monuments of his industry to this day.

He was frequently elected to office in Attica, as Supervisor, Justice of the Peace, and Mayor. In 1854 he went to Nebraska on horseback from Chicago, and assisted in organizing the then territory. He was made chairman pro tem of the first Senate in 1855, and its regular presiding officer at the session of 1856. He was appointed Probate Judge of Burt County, of which he was known as the Father of its county seat Tekamah. He was a Captain and also Paymaster in the militia of Nebraska, with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. A man of great force of character, he was always a leader and of strictest integrity. He kept a residence in Attica, although most of his time was spent in Omaha and Tekamah, where he acquired large interests in land, thus leaving a comfortable legacy to his widow and children.
